World-Wide Movement to Relieve the Survivors on the Stricken Islands—King Edward Sends $5,000 and Emperor William $2,500 as Their Personal Subscriptions.

New York Chamber of Commerce Called to Meet on Wednesday to Raise Funds—Mayor Low Announces He Will Receive Subscriptions.

measures. The State Department is already acting through the United States consuls in the West Indies.

The transport Dixie will sail on Wednesday from the Brooklyn Navy-Yard with provisions. At least two revenue cutters in Southern waters will be ordered to St. Pierre at once.

The food supplies stored in this city for the War Department will be drawn upon without stint, and the President in a message to Congress today urges an immediate appropriation.

Space for 2,000 barrels of provisions has been reserved by the Government on the Quebec Steamship line boat which sails next Saturday.

A. E. Outerbridge & Co. have ordered their steamship Matteawan, now at St. Thomas, to proceed at once to Fort de France and turn over all the stores on board to the Government authorities. Mr. Outerbridge believes that with all the immediate relief that can be hurried to Martinique there will not be enough to feed the survivors over four or five days.

The Chamber of Commerce is to hold a meeting next Wednesday morning to arrange measures for raising funds. Mayor Low announced to-day that he will receive subscriptions and transmit them through the Chamber of Commerce Committee.

CONSUL Ayme CABLES THAT FOOD IS NEEDED AT ONCE.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Secretary Hay has received the following cablegram, dated May 11, from United States Consul Ayme at Guadeloupe, who went to Fort de France, Martinique, by instructions from this Government:

"The disaster is complete. The city is wiped out. Consul Prentiss and his family are dead."

"Governor says 30,000 have perished; 50,000 ARE HOMELESS AND HUNGRY."

"He suggests that the Red Cross be asked to send codfish, flour, beans, rice, salt meats and biscuit as quickly as possible."

"Visits of war vessels valuable. Ayme."

KAISER SENDS LOUBET $2,500 FOR THE SUFFERERS

WIESBADEN, Province of Hesse-Nassau, Germany, May 12.—Emperor William has telegraphed to President Loubet, in French, as follows:

"Profoundly moved by the news of the terrible catastrophe which has just overtaken St. Pierre, and which has cost the lives of nearly as many persons as perished at Pompeii, I hasten to offer France my most sincere sympathy. May the Almighty comfort the hearts of those who weep for their irreparable losses.

"My Ambassador will remit to Your Excellency the sum of 10,000 marks ($2,500) in my behalf as a contribution for the relief of the afflicted."

President Loubet replied: "Am greatly touched by the mark of sympathy which, in this terrible misfortune which has fallen on France, Your Majesty has deigned to convey to me. I beg you to accept my warm thanks and also the gratitude of the victims whom you propose to succor."

ALL ANTHRACITE MINES ARE IDLE.

130,000 Toolers Quit Work in Obedience to Order—Not a Ton Mined.

130,866 MINERS ARE NOW ON STRIKE.

According to the best estimates obtainable the following miners are now on strike:

District No. 1....	15,235

Seventeen thousand men, in remote districts, are yet to be heard from.

(Special to The Evening World.) SCRANTON, Pa., May 12.—The union already has shown its strength. Every mine in the anthracite region is tied up to-day in obedience to the three-day strike order issued by President Mitchell.

Not a ton of coal has been, or is being, mined.

The whistles this morning sounded to summon the men to work were a signal to 147,000 toolers for a general shut down.

At 9 o'clock in the morning 130,000 men were known to be out, with 17,000 in remote districts yet to be heard from.

None of the operators made an effort to start work with non-union men.

The Lehigh Valley, Susquehanna, Delaware and Hudson, Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia and Reading, Erie and all the other large companies allowed their toolers to close down.

The miners' leaders are slated over the showing. Said one: "Not a ton of coal mined in a district which turns out 1,000,000 tons of coal a day is a pretty good record for our union. And if the operators are not impressed with it it will be surprising."

The operators at all the mines this morning placed on guard a large number of special officers. All the authorities are armed.

Members of the local unions will meet here today to elect delegates to the All-Union convention.

At 10 o'clock, May 11, at Reading, Pa., the miners' leaders in the anthracite region of the Lehigh Valley met to discuss the strike and to decide whether they would strike if called upon to do so.

The only report of disturbance during the day came from Hazleton, where a small number of miners were called out to work on the strike.

HORSE PLUNCES INTO R. T. TUNNEL

Animal Crashes Into Excavation and Has to Be Raised by a Steam Derrick.

The first of the inevitable series of accidents due to the manner in which the subway excavations are being made in Park Row happened this afternoon. When a horse fell into the ditch in front of the Sun office and was so badly injured that it probably will be necessary to kill it.

The horse, a splendid white animal, was one of a team owned by E. C. Gedney, a commission merchant, of No. 333 Washington street, attached to a truck loaded with green bananas. The driver, John Peters, in pulling out to avoid a Madison avenue car, got too close to the excavation and the front wheel of the truck broke through the wooden fence.

The horse nearest to the fence was forced into the ditch and would have fallen to the bottom but for a heavy iron pipe running about six feet below the surface.

The poor animal rested on this pipe until ropes could be fixed around his body, when he was pulled out of the tunnel by one of the big derricks used for hoisting dirt and stones.

The quickness of Driver Peters saved the other horse from following his team mate into the hole.

JAMES E. MARCH AN ITALIAN, HE SAYS

Port Warden and Leader of the Sixth Testifies He's a Son of Sunny Italy, Maggio by Name.

Port Warden James E. March, the Republican leader in the Sixth Assembly district, testifying before Justice George B. Selden in the Supreme Court, this afternoon, said he was an Italian by birth, and that his real name was Eugenio Maggio. At Louisville, he declared, where he was educated, the boys called him "Jimmy March."

"I understood Jimmy March to be an English translation of my name, so I have called myself James E. March ever since," said the Warden of American's greatest son.

ROMANCE REVEALED IN NOTICE OF WEDDING OF TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Queens Borough Politician and His Wife Reunited After Seven Years' Separation by Patient Whose Reason Was Cleared.

Married. APPELGATE-MCCOLLUGH.—On Thursday, Dec. 15, 1881, at the residence of the bride's uncle, No. 100 Leroy street, New York City, by the Rev. John J. Reed, Miss MARY E. MCCOLLUGH and JACOB A. APPELGATE.

The publication of this notice in the Evening Journal to-day revealed the romance in the life of Jacob A. Applegate, formerly a member of the Board of Education of the borough of Queens and one of the best-known men in that section of Long Island.

It had always been supposed that he was unmarried, and the publication of the notice marks a reunion after an estrangement that had lasted for nearly seven years.

Husband and Wife Parted. In the latter '70s Mr. Applegate was a salesman in the dry goods house of

A. T. Stewart. He lived in the old Ninth Ward and was a member of the West Fourth Street M. E. Church, of which Rev. John J. Reed was pastor.

Mary Elizabeth McCollough, an orphan, who was living with her uncle, Samuel McCollough, at No. 100 Leroy street, was also a member of the church. She was an independent girl who had learned the trade of polishing watch cases, from which she derived an income of about $30 a week.

After a long courtship she married Mr. Applegate at her uncle's house. It was not a secret wedding, but news of it never penetrated to Long Island.

After ten years of life in this city Mr. Applegate and his wife moved to what is now the borough of Queens, where they separated about seven years ago.

Mrs. Applegate opened a hotel at Ashbury Park and her husband became superintendent of grounds and buildings of Sanford Hall, the famous private insane asylum at Flushing.

He got into politics, too, became a member of the Board of Education and a citizen of prominence in Flushing.

His home there is one of the finest in the place.

Brought Her Home.

It is said that one of the patients in Sanford Hall became very well acquainted with Mr. Applegate, and when this patient became cured the superintendent tried to try him for having shot and killed his wife and shot his mother-in-law on Jan. 14, while under the influence of liquor.

Mrs. Applegate appeared in Flushing at the home of her husband last December. They have been seen together a great deal since, but the husband did not see fit to satisfy the curiosity of the neighbors concerning the identity of the strange woman.

Finally the talk became so insistent that Mrs. Applegate, in justice to her position, asked that the notice telling of the marriage of more than a score of years ago be published.

POLICE HOLD HIM AS HOTEL FRAUD.

George Brewster, Prisoner of Polite Manner, Identified as Youth Who Defrauded Hostels and Others.

Representatives of six firms called at Police Headquarters to-day and identified the young man who was arrested at the Hotel Manhattan under the name of George Brewster as the one who had defrauded them out of sums ranging from $50 to $100.

Brewster, who is twenty-one years old and says he is a student, according to the police, was a clever thief and dressed in the height of fashion and had the appearance of a well-to-do youth. It was his practice as a student, to register at a hotel, using the name of a well-known family. Then he would go to a store and order all sorts of goods sent to the hotel and charged.

Examination of the rating book would be satisfactory invariably and the goods would be sent. When the bill was brought about by a collector the young man would be found to have flown from the hotel without settling his bill.

Among the hotels visited were the Holland Hotel, Broadway, Manhattan and Park Avenue. The police say that when the young man was arrested he was carrying a letter to the Hotel Manhattan, which was found to be a letter to the Hotel Manhattan.

How often was arrested in court and committed to Police Headquarters until tomorrow.

GIRLS IN FIRE PANIC.

Harvard Street, near Avenue C, last night, a fire broke out in a building.

BLAMES NURSE FOR HER DEATH.

Jury Censures Celia McHeal Who Was in Charge of Theresa McMahon.

After an inquest into the death of Theresa McMahon, who died two weeks ago in the Manhattan State Hospital from injuries received there, a jury under Coroner Scholer this afternoon handed in this verdict:

"We find that the deceased came to her death from injury that resulted in the breaking of two ribs and the bruising and we exonerate the nurse in charge."

The nurse who was present when the insane woman is said to have received the injuries was Miss Celia McHeal, and she did not appear at the inquest. Coroner Scholer said she had left the hospital and he had not been able to find her. That she was missing, he would not say.

Butchers' Boycott Off?

Movement on the East Side Against the Wholesale is Failing.

The boycott of the east-side butcher shops against the wholesalers is failing. Many of the shops have opened today and it is thought that in a day or two more they will all be open.

The more intelligent of the butchers realized that the boycott against the wholesalers was not going to bring about the price of meat, as had been expected, and they were willing to pay the wholesalers' prices for their meat.

Some of the butchers protested to the wholesalers that they were not going to pay the wholesalers' prices for their meat, but they were not going to pay the wholesalers' prices for their meat.

TO NAME A NEW CITY ENGINEER.

Chief Birdsell, for 30 Years in New York's Employ, to Be Succeeded by a Providence Man.

Commissioner Dougherty, of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, to-day appointed George S. Birdsell, Deputy Commissioner of the Department for the Borough of Richmond, at a salary of $2,500 a year. The Commissioner said he expected to appoint a Brooklyn deputy within a few days, but declined to say who the appointee would be.

Chief Engineer George I. Birdsell, of the Department, who has held that position for a number of years, will leave that title within a few days, unless there is an unexpected change, and John R. Freeman, of Providence, will be made the Chief Engineer at a salary of $10,000. This is a larger salary than Mr. Birdsell receives.

The Commissioner said today that within a few days the contract for the change would be known. The Commissioner said he considered Mr. Birdsell a very valuable man. Another position will be offered to him.

Mr. Birdsell has been in the employ of the city for more than thirty years. John R. Freeman is an engineer of reputation and was selected by former Commissioner Tilden to make a report on the Washington system of a water supply for New York.

WIFE SLAYER ENNIS ON TRIAL.

Former Policeman, Racked by Horrible Visions, a Wreck in Court.

Shrivelled up and apparently with his reason gone, Policeman William H. Ennis sat listlessly in the County Court, Brooklyn, to-day while a jury was being selected to try him for having shot and killed his wife and shot his mother-in-law on Jan. 14, while under the influence of liquor.

Ennis was a fine specimen of physical manhood when he went to his home in Rockaway avenue, near Canarsie, and attacked his wife and her mother. He then weighed 155 pounds.

In less than four months he has lost seventy-five pounds in weight, his eyes have grown watery, his skin has turned yellow and his hands have become weak and slender.

He looked like a maniac in court. He trembled like a sufferer from palsy. "Do not kill me before I see a priest. Let me prepare for death," and that he replied.

"You must die."

Keopers of Raymond Street Jail say that this scene has been reproduced in a vision to Ennis, time and time again in his sleep and that it is driving Ennis mad.
